RE: M12247 - Nova Scotia Power Inc: 2025 Evergreen IRP Action Plan and Roadmap Update

To whom it may concern,

Please consider this letter our formal Notice of Intervention in the above matter.

Established in 2001 in Nova Scotia, Canada, Natural Forces remains a small company with big values and ambition. Collectively, we have around 300 MW of renewable energy projects currently in operation across Canada and are actively developing future wind, solar, and hydropower projects across Canada, Ireland, and France. Eastern Canada, headquartered in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Natural Forces is a key participant in Nova Scotia’s Independent Power Producer (IPP) community and remains committed to supporting NSPI in achieving its renewable energy targets—both in the near term and long term as demonstrated by our extensive portfolio of operating assets in the province.

As an established renewable energy generator in Nova Scotia, Natural Forces respectfully requests Intervenor status in this matter. Our goal is to ensure that renewable generation is properly represented and accurately modeled within the IRP, and to contribute our perspective on the current state of the renewable energy supply market. We believe this insight will be valuable in shaping a system designed around renewable energy.

Thank you for this opportunity.

Sincerely,

“Austen Hughes”
